We all know Netflix was unapologetic in peddling pedophilia when they launched Cuties. Now they are continuing their assault on Christians around the world. This isn't the first time Netflix has allowed blasphemy of the likeness of Jesus Christ. Their most recent attack on Jesus comes in season three of the animated Paradise P.D. with an episode that features a video of a gun-wielding Jesus that turns into nothing short of pornography.

The episode of the already disgustingly offensive series, features a scene using Jesus as anti-gun trope to demonstrate how "guns make a better world." The video is horrifically offensive, with Jesus coming down from the cross to kill his persecutors with machine guns before having sex with two women.

Somehow this scene is only slightly more offensive than the rest of the show. Believe it or not things only get worse from there. Despite this blatant blasphemy, almost no one has taken note. While even tame satirical depictions of Muhammad have garnered massive public outrage, and charges of "racism" and "Islamophobia," this overt attack on Jesus Christ has gotten no attention from today's "journalists."

Netflix has taken their freedom of speech too far, portraying Jesus in a lewd and ridiculous manner, and mocking gun owners as paranoid lunatics.

Netflix is only accelerating its outrageously offensive treatment of Jesus Christ. We cannot continue to stand idly by as Jesus is mocked openly on Netflix.
